L'Oreal Paris has named a Clinton woman one of its 10 "Women of Worth" for her work with the Eastwide Academy, an after-school program in Clinton.

Lillian Collins, 50, earned the recognition for her "unwavering commitment to her community and her extraordinary volunteer achievements," according to information from L'Oreal Paris. She will be honored Dec. 9 in New York, where she'll receive a $5,000 donation for her charitable cause.

People can vote online at www.womenofworth.com to nominate one honoree to receive an additional $25,000 donation for her organization. Voting ends Nov. 24.
