Did you ever wish you could nominate someone you know for an award, not only to mark their outstanding achievements in your community but to give them $25,000.00 toward the charity they work with? Here's your chance: go to www.womenofworth.com between now and June 16th and submit them for the Women of Worth Campaign sponsored by L'Oreal, it's a grass roots campaign designed to honor women who have inspired others and enriched their communities with their spirit of giving. This year there will be 10 honorees selected by a group of judges including Soledad O'Brien from CNN, Carol Hamilton, President, L'Oréal Paris Division of L'Oréal Paris USA, Inc., a past honoree amongst others. Go online now and share your story or someone else's because you're worth it and she is too.
